WORKTOPS

KITCHEN WORKTOPS TO SUIT ANY HOME

Granite

Crafted from 100% natural stone, granite worktops are a chic addition to any kitchen. Granite is mined, making each piece inherently unique, ensuring that no two granite worktops are identical. Besides their aesthetic appeal, granite worktops are incredibly strong and durable, capable of withstanding high temperatures and avoiding chips and scratches, thanks to their protective coating. They require low-effort cleaning, making them a hassle-free and low-maintenance choice for your kitchen. With their combination of beauty and functionality, granite worktops make an excellent investment for any home.

Quartz

Unlike granite, Quartz is a manufactured material that combines quartz, resin, and colouring pigments. Due to their non-porous nature, these worktops do not require sealing, which makes them easy to maintain as well as stain-resistant. With a high sheen finish, they have a natural stone look and come in a variety of colours and patterns, making them perfect for any design aesthetic. Versatile in both design and build, quartz worktops are ideal if you are looking for a strong and durable worktop that offers plenty of aesthetic options.

Resin

Resin worktops are gaining widespread popularity on account of their modern versatility and durability. Resembling quartz in its low maintenance, stain-resistant and scratch-resistant properties, the non-porous nature of resin worktops ensures its long-term use. Its mouldable properties enable easy customisation of any shape and size, accommodating diverse design requirements. The variety of finishes available, including gloss and matte options, coupled with an extensive colour palette, renders resin worktops highly customisable. In addition, they are eco-friendly thanks to their combination of natural recyclable materials. For homeowners seeking a cost-effective and long-lasting worktop, resin is a great way to go.

Wood/Timber

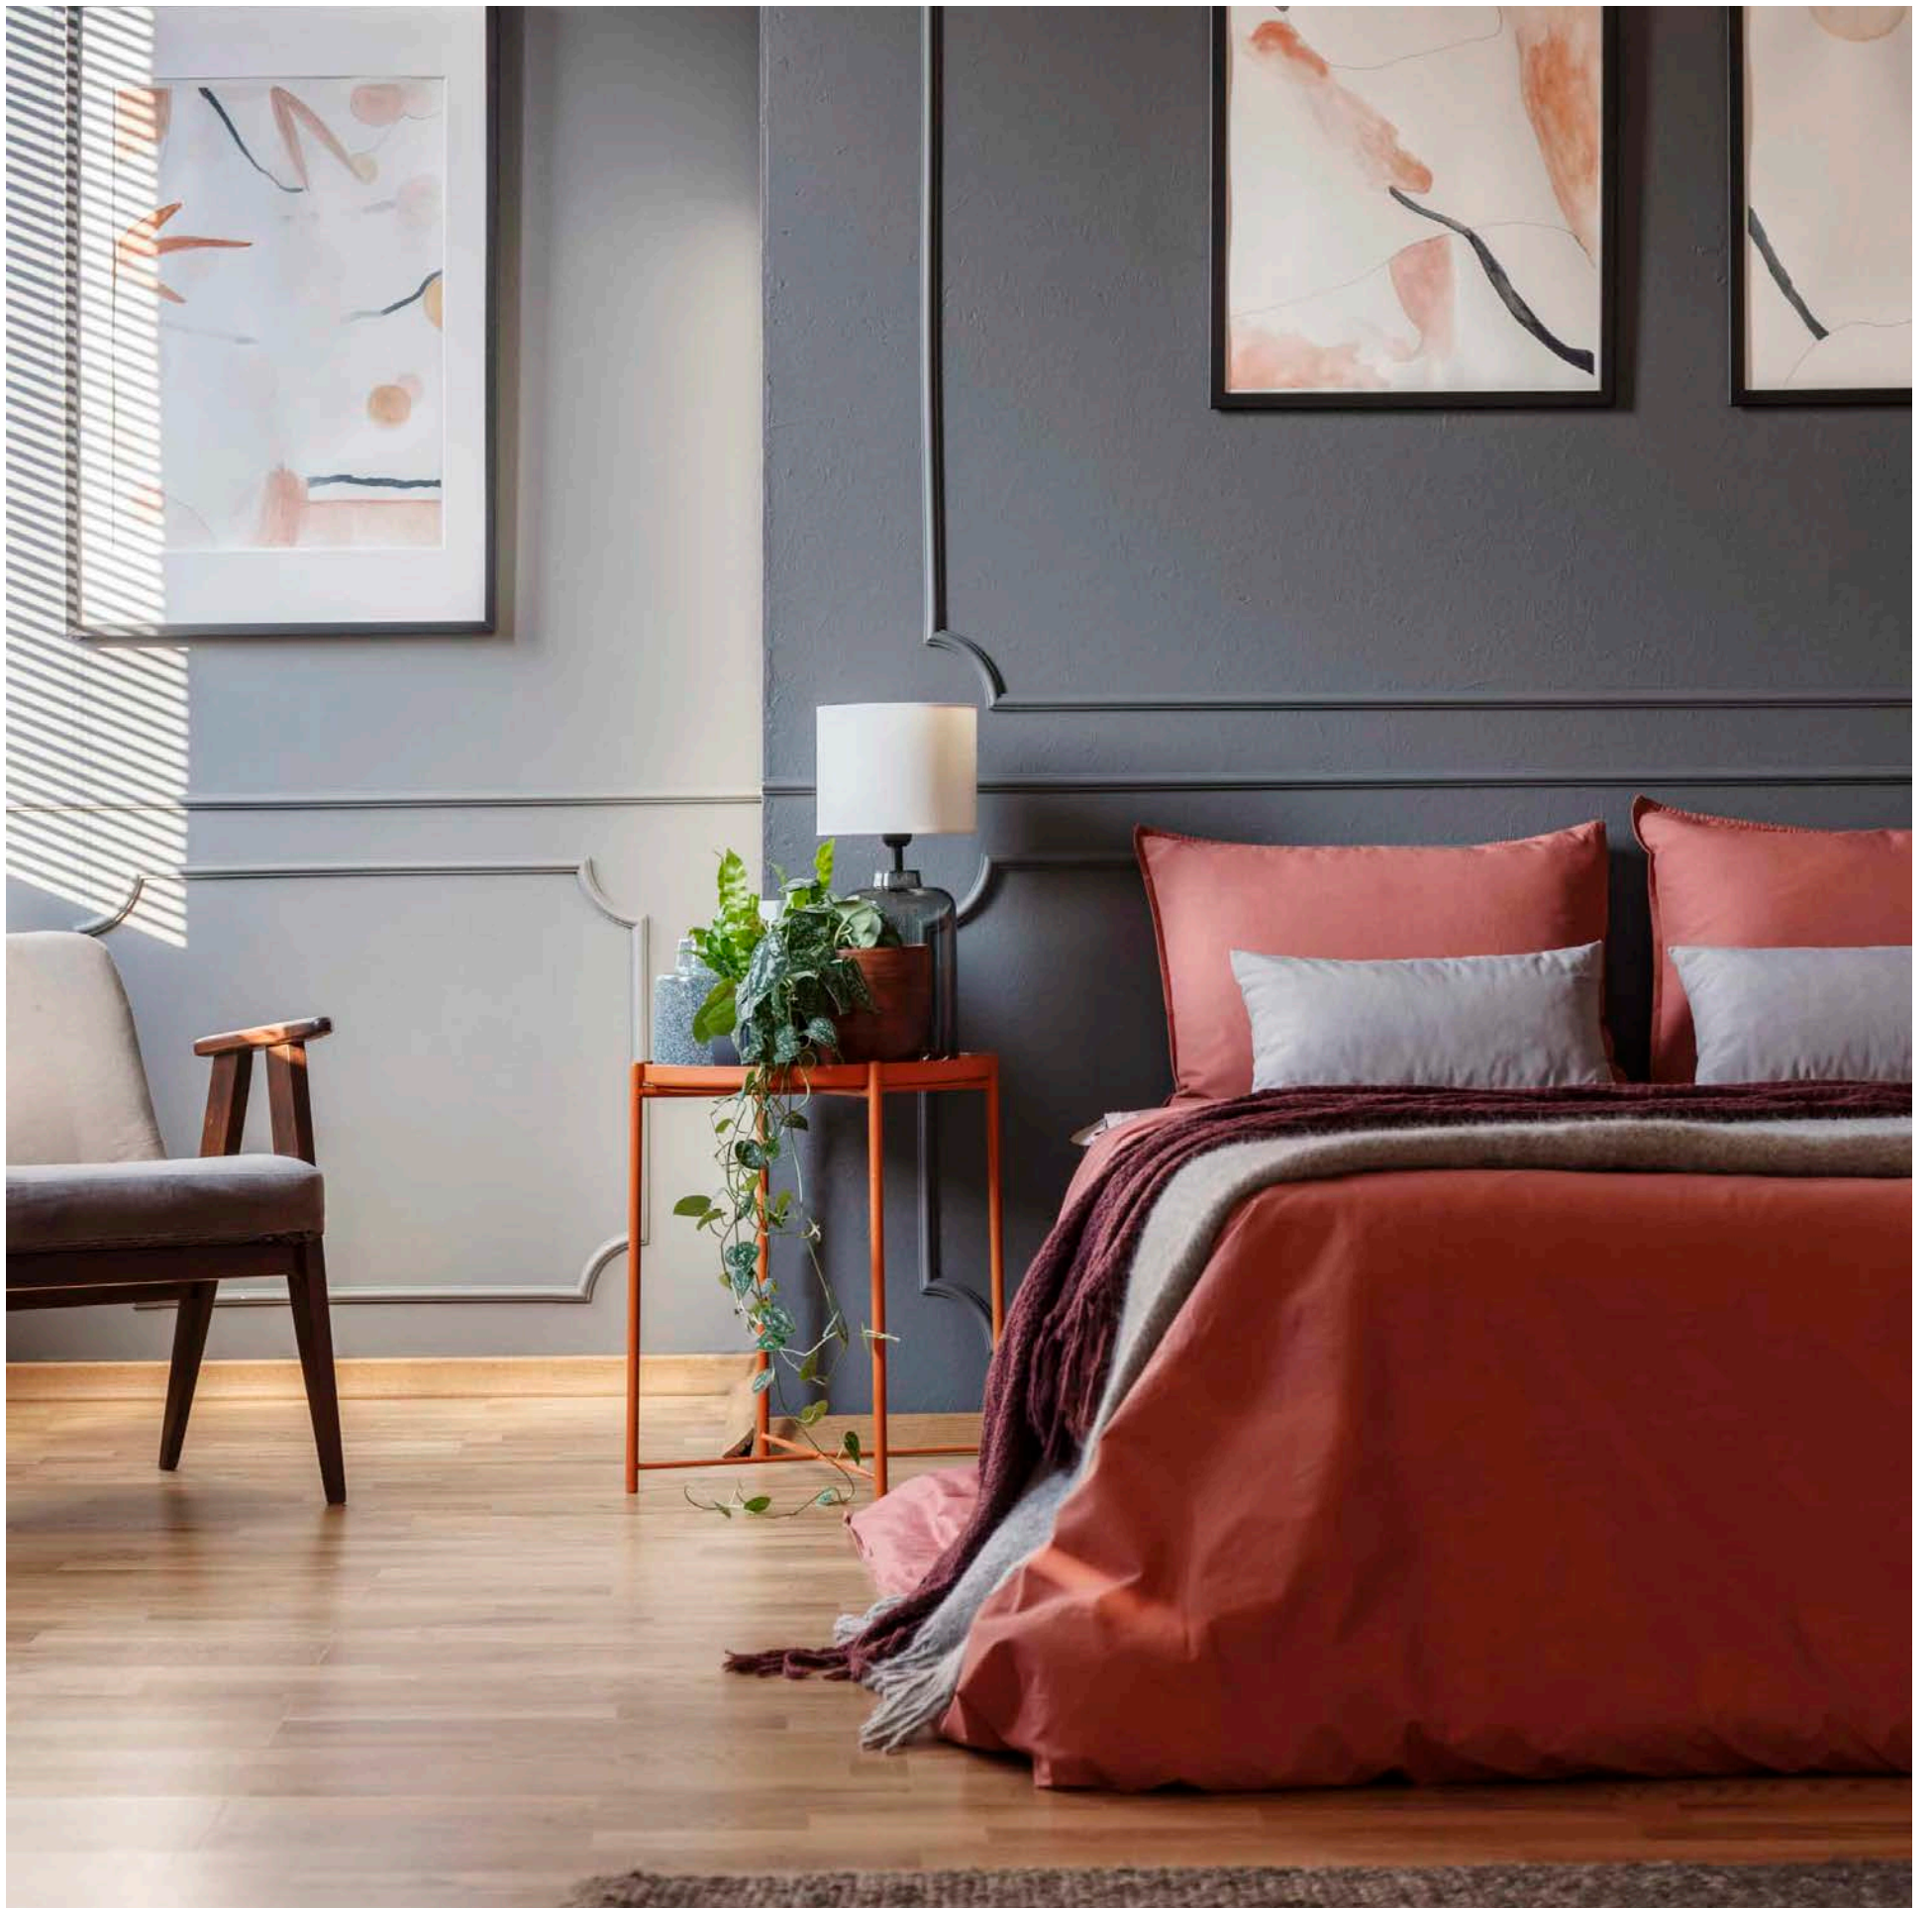

For homeowners with a desire for a more traditional aesthetic, considering a wood/timber kitchen worktop is an ideal choice. By creating a sense of homeliness, these worktops invite a sense of warmth and charm into any home. Their unique grain patterns and extensive range of colours provide a vast array of customisation options for your wood or timber worktop. Their strength and robustness guarantee their longevity, enabling homeowners to enjoy their style and functionality for many years. In addition to their durability, the natural antibacterial properties of wood worktops ensure optimal hygiene and safety. Homeowners with a timeless vision and penchant for a classic aesthetic will find wood/timber worktops an impeccable choice.

PROJECTS

BROAD GATE, HEADROW LEEDS: OFFICE FIT-OUT

PROJECT SUMMARY

The office renovation project on the fifth floor of Broad Gate in Leeds represents a substantial interior modification initiative. The primary objective was to accommodate new office spaces and elevate the overall aesthetic appeal of the floor. Aligned with the detailed plans outlined in the architect's drawings and specifications, the project aimed to establish a modern, functional, and visually appealing environment. Key elements of the project included the suite split and refurbishment of corridors and common areas, contributing to the ongoing evolution of Broad Gate as a dynamic and sophisticated workspace.

OUR METHODOLOGY

Alterations to Raised Access Floor: Modify existing raised access floor tiles to accommodate the new slab-to-slab wall. Install new pedestals according to the manufacturer's specifications to support the modified tiles.

Modifications to Ceiling: Systematically remove designated ceiling tiles and grids to be replaced with new plasterboard ceilings. Transfer metal tiles to the basement storage room for retention by the Building Management Team. Dismantle and reinstall ceiling tiles and grids as necessary for M&E subcontractor works.

Construction of Partition Walls: Assemble new slab-to-slab metal stud partition walls. Construct a metal stud partition wall from the finished floor level (FFL) to the ceiling.

Acoustic Measures: Introduce a new acoustic barrier between the suspended ceiling and the structural soffit above the wall.

Finishing Touches: Attach new timber skirting to both types of walls. Supply and install partition-acoustic-rated glazing on walls. Paint new partition walls to harmonise with the existing perimeter and core walls. Feature Installations: Affix feature acoustic slat wall cladding in accordance with the architect's drawings and specifications. Install a new carpet tile floor finish in the landlord's corridor. Place a feature vinyl floor tile on plywood backing in the landlord's corridor.

Door Installations: Outfit new double-leaf entrance door sets to Suite 5.4 and Suite 5.5, complete with vision panels and door furniture. Install new single-leaf secondary exit door sets to Suite 5.4 and Suite 5.5, including vision panels and door furniture. Assemble a new double-leaf corridor sub-division door set, equipped with vision panels and door furniture.

Corridor Upgrades: Erect a new Metal Frame (MF) suspended ceiling between Suite 5.4 and 5.5 in the shared corridor. Paint the new MF ceiling to match the existing landlord's MF ceiling.

Overcoming Challenges: The project faced challenges in coordinating multiple tasks to minimise disruption. Effective communication among trades and meticulous scheduling ensured the efficient completion of each project phase. The relocation of ceiling tiles demanded precise documentation and storage practices for future management ease.

RESULTS

The fifth floor of Broad Gate on the Headrow in Leeds underwent a complete transformation, featuring the comprehensive strip-out of two expansive office suites and the refurbishment of connecting corridors. NAVIGATING CHALLENGES: THE TRANSFORMATIVE JOURNEY OF BAY TREE HOUSE

The journey to transform Bay Tree House into the pinnacle of luxury living was not without its challenges. Harrogate Joinery, in collaboration with the visionary owner, embarked on a mission to overcome hurdles and turn obstacles into opportunities.

Architectural Innovation:

Raising the entire roof by 1 metre demanded meticulous planning and structural expertise. The challenge lay in seamlessly integrating this architectural innovation to enhance the upper floor's comfort without compromising the property's aesthetic integrity.

Precision in Design:

Crafting five ensuite bedrooms, an open-plan kitchen, and a loft cinema required a delicate balance between opulence and functionality. Ensuring each space served its purpose while contributing to the overall design harmony posed a significant design challenge.

Outdoor Integration:

Re-landscaping the front and back areas presented the challenge of integrating outdoor spaces cohesively with the interior. Creating enchanting garden rooms and entertainment areas required a keen understanding of both landscaping and interior design principles.

Technological Integration:

Incorporating smart features, such as state-of-the-art windows and integrated smart cabinets, demanded a deep dive into technology. The challenge was to seamlessly merge these modern conveniences into the traditional framework of the house.

Logistical Coordination:

Executing such a comprehensive renovation while maintaining a seamless flow from one phase to the next required precise logistical coordination. Coordinating multiple tasks, from window installations to the creation of a bespoke gym, demanded meticulous planning and execution.

Preservation of Elegance:

Ensuring that the grandeur and elegance of Bay Tree House were not lost during the transformation was a persistent challenge. Every change made had to complement and enhance the existing charm rather than overshadow it.

Timeline Management:

The ambitious scope of the project meant managing timelines with utmost precision. Coordinating different aspects of the refurbishment, from roof elevation to the creation of an executive office, required a delicate balance to meet deadlines without compromising quality.

Despite these challenges, the collaborative efforts of Harrogate Joinery, the owner, and a dedicated team turned each obstacle into an opportunity for innovation. The result is Bay Tree House—a testament to the resilience and creativity needed to transform a vision into a breathtaking reality.
